enjoyment last summer, to meet in the

Billiard Room (Officers Mess) at Murray

Barracks on Wednesday next at 6 p.m. One of the first duties of the new Hongkong Association should be to obtain a hall For COAST PORTS. - Waters are packed for public meetings whose acoustics are and placed on board ship at Hongkong more perfect than those of the rooms in prices, and the full amount allowed for the City Hall. Another matter that ought to be taken up, and it came into appropriate prominence while Mr Francis was speaking at last night's meeting, is the screeching wheel-barrow housance. For several minutes it was a dust between Mr Francis and a passing barrow, and if the barrow had not mercifully moved on the chances were all in favour of the learned Q.C. giving up the contest.

This afternoon a meeting was held in the offices of the Company, at Praya Central, of the Selama Tin Mining Company (in-The following is a List of Waters always liquidation). Mr J. Orange presided, and there were present : Messrs D. Gillies and W. H. Ray (Directors), J. Maclehose, J. M. G. Manuk, and W. Hutton Potts (liquidator). Mr Potts, having read the notice calling the meeting, said he would SELTER WATER be willing to answer any questions with regard to the accounts which had been before the shareholders for ten days. FRAGRANT WATERS' MURMUR That the result of the Interport Rifle Match seems to show, allowing for all supposed advantages, that Hongkong can still shoot straight. That Shanghai and Singapore are improving each year is quite in order, as long as Hongkong keeps page ahead and leads them on.

That the local Volunteers are apparently getting properly consituted, so far as rules and regulations are concerned, and the agitation over the big scheme has undoubtedly done good.

That I hear a fair number have already been sworn in as members of the newly-reconstituted Artillery Corps, and that Captain McCallum will see his Battery in fairly good form before he takes his well-earned farlough.

That the meeting held to form the Hongkong Association passed off as well as could possibly have been expected, and the irrelevant matter talked was confined to a very small minority.

That the efforts of the Provisional Committes to put things in train were accepted by the meeting, the Association was duly formed, and a small Working Committee was appointed to draw up rules to be submitted later on.

That the Chairman's avoidance of anything like antagonism to the Government wat fully appreciated by those present, and the inauguration of this public movement may be set down as satisfactory and

That it is a pity the idea should have been entertained that the China Association could deal efficiently with all local matters here, and that therefore the Hongkong Association was not wanted.

That there is no reason why every member of the Hongkong Association should not also become a member of the China Association, or why the two bodies should not work amicably together upon any subject which interests both.

That it would be a waste of words in these days to show how much greater weight the opinion of a properly-constituted body carries than the mere expression of opinion by individuals or even the spasmodic outcome of an ecoasional meeting of residents. That much depends upon the moderate and sensible conduct of this Association, and I would not be surprised to see great results within a short time if the proper constitutional means are fairly and persistently employed.

That bluster and fuss will never socomplish any good result.

That the new light on Waglan has been lit and shown amid quite a shower of courtesies, civilities, and congratulations. That D'Aguilar Light, although 'fixed,' must now be moved away in due course. That the comparison drawn between the cost of Waglan and Gap Rock Lights is apt to be made without regard to the peculiar conditions of the sites and of the builders. That the Chinese authorities have a fleet of cruisers at their disposal and a permanept Light-house Construction Service equal perhaps to any in the world.

That Waglan is about a dozen miles from

INTERRUPTION OF PUBLIC SPEAKERS. In a leader on the subject of interruption of public speakers the Daily News says: Elaborate crators, especially perhaps in France, have prepared against interruptions, but sometimes with little success. Mr John Morley is at his finest when he is geaded by interruptions and when he lets himself go, and recognises the fact as put by Shakespeare that bearlike he must fight the course. Then, indeed, he puts forth all his strength and the position, again described by Shakespeare, of being suffered with the bear's fell paw.! But it is not all in public life a mere | get Claments Tonic only, as many swindles are pre-ordained survival of the fittest, in this matter of interruptions to elequence. As we have already observed, many really great orators were put out and shoved out of gear, for the moment at least, by interruptions, and yet the speeches survived the perturbed and bungled moment, and will live, so far as speeches our live, for all time. We need hardly say that in the House of Commons interruption is especially sharp and thoughtless and rude. Yet we have an idea that any amount of interruption is better for a young speaker who has anything in him than the utter and absolute indifference with which the average declaimer is usually redeived by the House of Representatives at Washington. In this conviction we may note that it is a comfort to think that no young speaker of any merit in our House of
